Dear Parents

As we move deeper into the year, the school has become its usual hive of activity!

We have shown a very large number of families around the school during our open mornings, with extra slots created to meet demand. Without exception, visitors commented on how quiet and purposeful the school was when in session. The quality of teaching and learning is without a doubt impressive and a real tribute to the staff and students.

Last Friday, on behalf of the school, I attended the funeral of Michael Leppard at St. Swithun's Church. Many parents who attended Sackville may well have been taught by Michael, who was Head of Divinity. His devotion to teaching and to the town he loved came across very strongly in the tributes to him and the service was well attended.

The government has confirmed how well our year 11 students performed last year with the first release of its 2019 performance tables. These show we have achieved the much sought-after 'above average' green classification.

This is based on our 'Progress 8' score of +0.31, showing that one in every three GCSE grades last summer were a full grade higher than those achieved by similar students in other schools.

We knew how hard our 16 year-olds worked last year; we are delighted to see this confirmed by these official figures which show Sackville standing out strongly in the locality.

Congratulations to our head boy Ayo Odeyinde, who was named Young Volunteer of the Year at the Mid-Sussex Applauds Reception at Eastcourt on Sunday October 13th.

The judges were impressed by Ayo's many volunteering exploits. During the last summer holidays he arranged a sports summer club, obtaining all of the necessary permissions, arranging for DBS checks for helpers and securing funding. Twenty primary school aged students each day had their holidays enormously enhanced by his efforts.

Ayo regularly volunteers as a sports leader at Estcots Primary School, offers his services to the Welcome Cafe at Trinity Methodist Church and also accompanies members of his scout troop to Charters Retirement Village to support residents there.

Well done indeed Ayo – all this and still time to play a key role in our sporting endeavours, including the annual Sackville-Imberhorne Memorial Game.

Thank-you also to Mr Heatley, Seren Foulds, Toulah Morgan (pictured), Jamie Bland, Alexandra Cumpatescu, Saskia Crumpton and Chloe Harman who gave up their Sunday afternoon to play some wonderful music at the event.

Whilst focussed on achievement, it has been a pleasure to congratulate many of our students at special breakfasts of late. Even more special has been the fact that these events have taken place under our new canopy outside D block, which is proving to be a popular success!

Congratulations to our top value-added students in year 11 who did particularly well in their year 10 exams compared to their 'minimum expected grades'. Y11 have made a great start to the new academic year which bodes well for their GCSE examinations. I was delighted to talk with so many of you at the parents' evening with subject teachers last week and know that the home-school partnerships are very strong. These partnerships play such an important role in this challenging year.

The year 8 PiXL Edge Ambassadors met on Friday October 19th for a celebration launch of PiXL Edge. The Ambassadors will be developing their leadership skills through championing PiXL Edge across the school and assisting with the year 7 students and their tutors as they start the programme after half term.

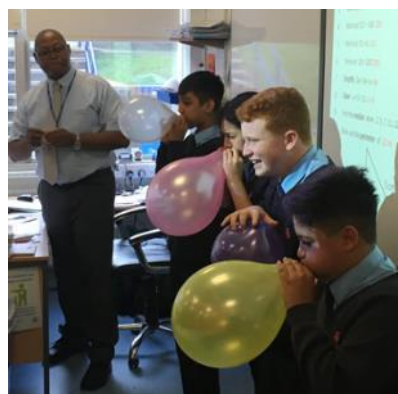

PiXL Edge is used in the school to allow students to build up a record of extra-curricular activities which show leadership, organisation, resilience, initiative and communication: vital skills for lives in the twenty-first century.

Congratulations to our CREST award winners who collected their certificates this week.

This was in recognition of completing a long-term science project of their choice, researching, developing and analysing the data collected. Each project was presented at the Big Bang Fair competition at Ardingly in the summer. The CREST judges were so impressed with Anna Lee and Rebekah Whyton's investigation Which conditions are best for growing a plant on Mars, they were upgraded to a GOLD award, a first for Sackville!

Staying with our STEM subjects, it is good to report that much enjoyment takes place in lessons alongside the hard studying.

Our Transition Coordinator, Mrs Brown, recently felt compelled to take this delightful photo in one of Mr Collins' maths lessons where, as a reward for doing so well in a milestone test, he had planned a maths-based 'treasure hunt' lesson with a twist. All of the questions were hidden inside balloons, and these had to be inflated to bursting point before the question could be answered.

The students had an enormous amount of fun, and won't forget this lesson for a while!

Some of our students were picked for a special maths treat last weekend: four intrepid year 9s completed maths mastery classes at the University of Brighton on Saturday October 19th.

The students certainly came away feeling challenged, as the problems they were set were of a different nature and standard to their usual classroom work. They are all now much more aware of how to approach a difficult maths problem.

Thank-you to the team at Brighton for hosting! Pictured here are Olivia Matthews, Iwan Hudson, Thomas Salter and Toby Sheridan.

Congratulations to Ella Brown and Callie Devlin whose dance troupe, The Division, placed first in the South East Street Dance Championships in September and now proceed to the 2020 British and European championships. This is not a surprise given that the troupe has performed in front audiences of thousands, and supported the street dance sensation Diversity. Ella and Callie also entered the 14 and under duos heat and placed fourth, so it was a very successful weekend! Ella and Callie dance with Urban City in our dance studios three times weekly.

Year 8 student Hannah Taylor had a surprise at the STEM 19 event at the Military Academy in Sandhurst by meeting the Princess Royal, Princess Anne. This was merely the icing on the cake on an amazing day. She was given first-hand the opportunity to witness a very wide range of STEM career options from employers such as the Army, Dell and Transport for London.

Having already mentioned our Head Boy, Ayo Odeyinde, earlier in this article, I am also pleased to report that our Head Girl, Lily Kendrick, has also been extremely busy! She writes:-

"In my new role as part of the Student Leadership Impact Group I have a responsibility for promoting Sackville's charity work. We've had a fantastic start to the Charity Group this year in collaborating with other schools in the community in support of the organisation 'Movement on the Ground' that is providing essential humanitarian aid for Greek refugee camps. It's been a whole school effort to collect tents, blankets and other winter essentials to donate some relief for the many people arriving in the Greek islands of Lesbos and Samos.

The main camp was originally designed to hold 2000 people but currently there are 11,000 people there with more arriving every day. At present, the weather is still warm and the situation is less critical, but in the coming months the weather will deteriorate providing many more challenges for the people living there, especially because the camp has already run out of many basic supplies.

We've been delighted with the cooperation and generosity of everyone in the school in collecting well over the expected amount; six big car fulls for their Winterisation programme. Thank you to everyone who came together, what a wonderful turnout for a wonderful cause! A big thank you also to Stine Degmeier-Douch for introducing us to this organisation!"

Thank you to Mrs Stuart for taking students from years 10, 12 and 13 to Cambridge University to get some public speaking training from Cambridge debaters as well as a visit to the Fitzwilliam Museum. The debating itself took place at the Cambridge Union where speakers were judged by none other than Judge Judy. Well done to all of those who took part – you did yourselves and Sackville proud.

Congratulations to Charlie Howcroft, Arthur Crawley, Joshua Ramirez Turk, Miah Blackburn, Grace Olyaie, Noah Roberts and Sienna Mogg who represented Sackville this month at the launch of the Mid-Sussex STEM Challenge in the presence of local MP Sir Nicholas Soames. The challenge has been created by local businesses to support students looking into a career in science, technology engineering or maths. The students have been asked to modify an off-road radio-controlled car for a number of different challenges which they will perform against seven other schools, leading to a final next spring.

Thursday 10 October saw the annual Adam Dabell Memorial Match between Imberhorne and Sackville at the ground of East Grinstead Town FC. Sackville ran out winners of a high-quality encounter after an Ethan Carrick hatrick. The game is held annually to commemorate Adam Dabell, an ex-Sackville student, who died suddenly after playing football due to an undiagnosed heart condition, and to raise awareness of this possibility in all young people. The players from both schools approached the game in positive spirit; a joy to watch for those in attendance.

Thank you to Mr Watson, Mr Endersby and Mr Currie for organising the game, and to all the spectators who came out to enjoy it.

Staying with sport, congratulations to our U16 and U19 netball teams, the only representatives from the state sector at the netball national heats at Roedean on Saturday.

The U16s, with many year 10s in the team, came 5th, and the U19s came 9th – against some very strong competition (and a lot of rain). Well done girls!

Finally, and hot off the press, we were treated to the wonderful annual 'Gym and Dance' show this week which was, as ever, a real treat!

No fewer than 25 acts made up an evening full of colour, vibrancy and talent. To see many of our youngest students perform so well in front of a packed audience only a few weeks into secondary school life is amazing. Well done to all the participants and, of course, to all the staff and students who worked so hard in organising and overseeing the event.

I would like to wish you all a relaxing half term break.

Best wishes

Julian Grant
Headteacher

Student leadership at Sackville

Mr Endersby writes:-

We are reviewing the way student leadership works across the whole school.

We know here at Sackville how crucial gaining leadership skills and experience is in allowing students and young people to flourish when they leave school. We are told by parents and businesses in our local community that they want young people entering the next stage of their lives after school education, whether into employment, apprenticeships or higher education, to have gained real leadership experience.

The vision of student leadership here at Sackville is

- to allow students to get involved in extracurricular clubs
- to take a more leading role inside or outside the classroom, and finally
- to make an impact to the wider school community.

Getting involved and leading others is something that we know our students are not only keen to do, but are really good at.

Making an impact is where I believe we can really develop opportunities for our young people. We are doing this by creating IMPACT groups across five areas that allow our students to choose to get involved in what interests them.

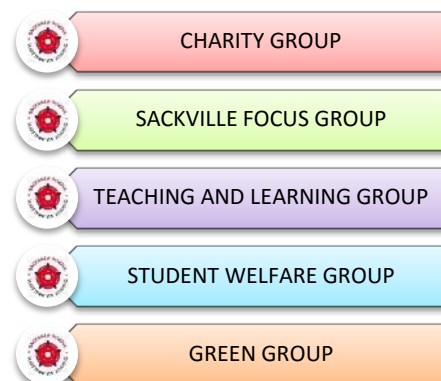

The groups are as shown in the graphic on the right.

Our sixth form head team, along with the support from some members of staff, will be chairing each group, but we are hoping for students from across all year groups to play a vital role in delivering some of the work that these groups will be doing throughout the year.

Already work carried out by these groups includes the collecting of clothing for humanitarian relief in Greece.

Future opportunities include; tree planting, crisp packet recycling, mentoring of students and support work in the local community.

For more information our students can log on to areas within Google Classroom.

News from the LRC

Mrs Rose writes:-

With the arrival of the new year 7's the LRC held a competition to find out what they remembered from the library inductions we give in the first library lesson of the year. There were plenty of entries and Maya Rotar 7CHD was the lucky winner, pictured with her prize.

Maya has also joined us to begin training as a library monitor.

Library monitors help mainly at lunchtime with lending and returning book, shelving, printing and many other activities. Anyone who is interested in helping out in the LRC as a student librarian would be most welcome to come and find out more during the first week back after half term.

Also after half term we will be having a book sale of old, used and new books. This will be held in the LRC from Tuesday 19th to Thursday 21st November. The cost of the books will range from 20p to £1 so there should be a few bargains to be had. Maybe a good idea for a Christmas stocking filler! Do bring some money in as all the proceeds will go to the Teenage Cancer Trust and if none of the books are of interest we will be holding a competition to guess the number of words in the "Harry Potter" collection! This will run alongside the book sale and a prize for the nearest guess can be won. Let's raise as much as possible for this excellent cause.

Speaking of competition - in celebration of "National Poetry Day" on 3rd October, we have been running a competition for the best poem to be written by a tutor group with the theme of "School Life". There were some excellent entries from whole tutor groups through to many individual efforts. It was hard to pick a winner but finally Mrs Bello's form 8OBO won as it was a truly collaborative effort with all students contributing a line and Mrs Bello putting it all together. Well done 8OBO and I hope you enjoyed your prizes. The winning poem is printed later in this edition, on page 12. I hope you enjoy reading it as much as I did. All the entries are on display outside the LRC so come and see the entries for yourself.

Arkwright Scholarship

Mrs Wogan writes:-

Luke Waddell, our current Arkwright scholar, has learnt that he is being sponsored under this scheme by The Reece Foundation. This is a charity that promotes manufacturing and supports education particularly relating to engineering, maths and physics. The Foundation was set up by Dr Alan Reece, a highly-successful and entrepreneurial engineer who passed away in 2012.

Dr Reece owned and ran the Reece Group of Companies, one of the best-performing industrial groups in the north-east of England. One of the Reece Group of companies, Pearson Engineering Ltd, specialises in the design and manufacture of combat engineering and de-mining equipment that people's lives and missions depend on. It also provides industrial deep-water mining and excavation systems.

Observatory news

One of the great consolations of the shortening days of autumn is the return of our school observatory open evenings. Led by the redoubtable Mr Bush, but with a growing band of helpers, the Sackville community is invited to lift their eyes to the darkening heavens and wonder.

After our first open evening of the year, Mr Bush was able to write:-

It was great to see lots of new faces, (and some stalwarts) at our first observatory open evening of the season on Wednesday. Our main telescope tracked to Moon and allowed some amazing photo opportunities like this one by Keiran Colvill. Meanwhile, supporters Steve Pond and Max Goddard used separate scopes to wow children and parents with the rings of Saturn and splendour of Jupiter's atmosphere and moons.

Royal Institution maths masterclass

Mr Grant has written about this in his letter, but Iwan Hudson (year 9) has written a bit more about what sounds like a fascinating day.

The Maths Masterclass I attended was a good break from the standard curriculum, as it explained maths in a different light and applied it to different, challenging topics that pushed me to better understand how maths can be used.

My favourite part of the course was when we investigated how maths was used in the Battle of Trafalgar, because not only did it show that maths can be used in real life, but that it was used in one of the most important battles in history. I also liked the very last session as it introduced a competitive aspect, which somewhat lessened the blow when I didn't win, as I thoroughly enjoyed simply competing with like-minded individuals.

Sweet success for Nelson at Trafalgar

Speaking of Trafalgar, year 13 historians celebrated the anniversary of the Battle of Trafalgar in fine style this week, re-enacting the battle using cakes ... there was even a 'one armed Nelson'. I expect they got to eat all of the ships at the end too!

Remembering some of our finest students

You may remember that earlier this year two of our former students, Hugo Palmer and Erwan Ferrieux, were lost to the sea off the east coast of Australia. We have also written here about the fundraising going on to build the memorial Hugo Palmer Skate Park in Forest Row. As part of this Hugo's mother and aunt recently completed the Three Peaks Challenge, during which you have to climb the highest mountain in each of Scotland, England and Wales within 24 hours. It takes a lot of organisation and effort!

This picture shows them on top of Ben Nevis, towards the start of a day which Hugo's mother described as 'overall fairly gruelling'; surely the triumph of understatement. Hugo would have been immensely proud!

Donations are still welcome here.

It is more than four years since Matt Cox sadly passed away. A memorial cricket pavilion has been built in his memory at Edenbridge cricket ground, where Matt most liked to spend his weekends.

The Sackville community has played its part in securing the funds necessary for this, including purchasing memorial tiles which are now on display in the pavilion.

Matt's father Tim organises an annual charity cricket match between Sackville and Edenbridge, as well as coming to our Sports Awards Evening to present the Matt Cox Award.

Sackville School by 8OBO

Summer is behind us, fall is here
Back to school for a brand new year!
Pack your things, on the bus you go.
Make new friends and say hello!

The life at Sackville is intense
It starts in the morning by the blue fence
Where students rush through the narrow gate
Arriving early, and not half past eight!

We do Reading, writing and learning lots more
Than you ever did before!
Adding numbers, finding 'y'
Calculating using 'Pie'

Sackville school faces the west,
We believe that the school is simply the best,
Because it is led by a great team
With Mr Grant as a head, and we like him.

We start with period one and two
Morning lessons are good for you.
Break is followed shortly after
Without a rest it would be a disaster.

When break is finished there is more
Because you have period three and four.
Then you have lunch to eat your food
On a full stomach your learning is good.

And then you go to Period five
This is the time when you need to survive.
Another hour of intense learning
By now your urge to go home is burning.

At our school we work really hard for tests
And we are encouraged to do our very best.
To learn from our mistakes and improvise
As this is the way to become wise.

Strength is needed for daily survival,
So 'Learning for life' we do on morning arrival.

We love our fields that are big and green
And teachers on duty ensure your discipline
Sadly, there are not enough big trees
For us to shelter from high degrees.

The huge variety of the afterschool activities
Are open for students of all abilities.
If it's Science or Maths that suits your taste
Join a club in great haste.

At Sackville, it is all about everybody feeling valued, respected, supported and understood.
Teachers consider all our needs and abilities
And work collaboratively offering great facilities.

We organise a lot of fundraising events
To support our friends who have fragile fragments.

Sackville is also a great place to teach
And we do not need to prepare a long speech.
Mr Latus is still a legend after forty years
Highly respected by all students and his peers.

We are sure you all agree
That here so much to do and learn and see
Plus we all strongly believe
That together we achieve!
